

R. V. Wholesale Prices of Country Produce.

For the NEW YORK TRIBUNE by our own Reporter.

The following are the current rates of articles in good condition, as sold by commission houses, at New York. Shippers receive 5 to 10% less, according to distance, to the freight, and other charges. Parties receiving goods, are often given the request that immediate return be made, cannot always obtain the price which tenement buyers have to pay. Our figures are intended more for the farmer than the merchant, and we prefer not to disappoint by giving the outside prices of very choice articles.

The markets are in a very unsettled state, with little doing since the gold fever. Many of the operations are really nominal, and prices vary greatly in different localities; the competition being so great that they can sell for a loss or no profit, which can be obtained by selling to low figures rather than lose a sale in these uncertain times.

SPICES AND PEAS.

Trade is quiet, with many bids offering. Prices are considerably lower, and it is extremely difficult to force sales. We quote:
